

Dr. Diane Alsing, D. Eng, PMP, PMI-ACP, is a global digital transformation executive with over two decades of experience driving growth, innovation, and organizational reinvention. She currently serves as Vice President, ERP Practice Lead at Avanade, where she leads a business unit of 350+ professionals delivering Microsoft-enabled global enterprise transformations across industries. Diane is known for building high-performing organizations, leading strategic integration efforts, and delivering complex programs that drive sustainable client value through technology.

Previously, she led the Business Applications practice for the northeast region for Avanade, tripling revenue and expanding the team by 200%, while spearheading Avanade's first large-scale Microsoft digital contact center program. Her leadership has helped clients unlock business value through ERP, CRM, AI, and data innovation.

Diane brings seven years of executive board experience and currently serves on the Project Management Institute Board of Directors. She chairs the Compensation and Talent Committee and has contributed to the Audit and Risk Committee, helping to advance PMI strategic talent, governance, and risk agenda. She is also a member of the Fast Company Executive Board, where she authors and speaks on leadership, resilience, and the future of work.

Her thought leadership spans global conferences, industry panels, and academic settings. As adjunct faculty at Southern New Hampshire University, she teaches operations and quantitative studies with a focus on sustainability.

Diane holds a Doctor of Engineering and a Master of Science in Engineering Management from The George Washington University and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and Finance. She is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP)®, PMI Agile Certified Practitioner (PMI-ACP)®, and holds a Certificate in Company Direction from the Institute of Directors.

A champion of inclusive leadership and strategic transformation, Diane brings a future-focused mindset and boardroom acumen to help PMI and its members thrive in a rapidly evolving world.